

Where ideas work

BC Public Service
Ministry of Attorney General
Burnaby

Gambling Auditor

Salary: up to $79,930.70 annually

The Gaming Policy and Enforcement Branch (GPEB) provides policy, standards, regulatory, audit, conducts investigations and enforcement oversight of all gaming and horse racing sectors to ensure the integrity of public gaming in the Province. This includes regulatory oversight of BCLC (which conducts and manages lotteries, casinos, commercial bingo halls and PlayNow), BC's horse racing industry, licensed gaming events, and grant recipients.

Gambling Auditors conduct confidential audits of BCLC and its contracted gaming service providers against provincial legislation, standards and policies. This includes review of security and control procedures and complaints related to compliance with provincial legislation, standards and policies. Gambling Auditors also audit the operations of legally constituted lottery schemes, casinos and commercial bingo halls, charitable organizations and events to test the efficacy of internal controls, the integrity of gaming equipment that generates or protects gaming revenues, and compliance audits of sites with a history of violations or analysis of the operation indicates deviation from operational norms.

Working under the BC Gaming Control Act, the BC Gaming Control Regulation, and the Criminal Code, this role develops, implements and monitors operational plans to investigate complaints, conduct audits, identify and assess risks. The Gambling Auditor ensures that audits and inspections and their subsequent working papers, reports/findings and recommendations are timely, and consistent with legislation, policy and auditing standards. The Gambling Auditor is responsible for conducting risk assessments, involved in the risk-based planning for the department, overseeing audit work and projects from planning to completion, facilitating and coordinating audit resources, and assigning and assisting in prioritizing work.

The position offers an opportunity to make a difference working in a professional environment, experiencing a variety of challenging assignments while maintaining a good work-life balance.

Qualifications for this role include:

- Professional accounting designation CPA - CA, CGA, CMA, issued by a Canadian Accounting Association.
  - Note: If your designation was obtained from outside of Canada, you will need to confirm it has been assessed for equivalency through an applicable Canadian Accounting Association.
- Minimum of 3 years' recent experience performing audits and compliance reviews.
- Recent experience developing and implementing project and/or audit plans.
- Recent experience developing audit programs and assessing risk.

For more information and to apply by September 13, 2019, please go to:

<https://bcpublicservice.hua.hrsmart.com/hr/ats/Posting/view/63115>